Tuesday - 7 September 1943

1. Meeting with Staff in preparation for appearance before the Eberstadt

STAT Committee.

2. Milton Freeman, of the law firm of Arnold, Fortas & Porter, called [redacted] in connection with Loyalty Case #4, in which he has been retained as counsel. Subsequently spoke with Mr. Pforzheimer. Mr. Freeman demanded the names of those persons of radical tendencies with whom his client has alleged to have associated, and details as to the time and type of political thinking of a radical nature which it is alleged she held.

3. In connection with Mr. Freeman's request in Loyalty Case #4, Mr. Pforzheimer called Mr. Melloy, Executive Secretary of the Loyalty Review Board, who stated that, while it was a matter of each agency's individual procedure, the Loyalty Review Board felt it was preferable that names not be made available prior to the hearings, and that if this causes inconvenience an adjournment could be requested at the time the names were raised.
